To Whom It May Concern

This confirms that I have edited the following article by Mary van der Riet, Jacqueline Akhurst and Lindy Wilbraham:

Promoting students' sexual and reproductive health in peer-led programmes at two South African universities: emergent tensions and dilemmas

I completed a three-day Basic Editing and Proofreading course with John Linnegar (from McGillivray Linnegar Associates) in March, 2008. Since then, I have undertaken extensive copy editing work for Oxford University Press (South Africa), including editing both the first and second editions of their Abnormal Psychology text.

I have also edited several articles for submission to journals in South Africa and abroad.
